PhotoPerfectExpress –

Focus on taking pictures, and leave the editing to PhotoPerfect Express. Let's face it: who wants to spend hours laboriously processing all the pictures from the last photo session or family gathering by hand?

FileReplicator –

File Replicator is a nifty, sparse, little utility which can be of great use to anyone who has a lot of duplicate copies of the same file scattered hither and yon across their hard drive. This can be a set of default data, a "Readme" which is the same for many different programs, a license agreement, or many other things.
